

Improve claims settlement and dispute resolution through structuring and coordination

In numerous cases of national and international claims settlement, we experience that disputes and conflicts result in sometimes lengthy legal disputes.

In these cases, economic, psychological or other aspects of interest often play a decisive role if the parties shall receive a service, a product or a compensation which neither corresponds to their ideas and expectations nor to their understanding and interpretation of the relevant contracts, whether they are purchase, supply, construction, consulting or insurance contracts. Unresolved conflicts are a burden for all parties - insureds and insurers equally.

As a Team, we are highly committed to a swift clarification of the factual issues through consistent structuring and coordination. Based on our technical, legal and negotiation oriented competence, we work with the parties to find a timely and focused solution of the case - Mark Vos, B.Eng, International Executive Loss Adjuster, with technical expertise and many years of experience in the settlement of property, engineering and construction claims, has a broad international competence from more than 50 countries - Ulrich Werwig, Attorney at Law & Mediator (certif.), holds wide experience in out-of-court and alternative dispute resolution from numerous legal cases in the construction and insurance industry.

Several years of joint experience in successful settlement of complex international major claims characterise our cooperation. Depending on the size and complexity of the case, we work together.

The team works impartially and will focus on the following:

- Supporting and promoting the dialogue between the parties
- Review and discussion of the separating and merging aspects of a conflict
- Gain trust and identify the issues that are open for dialogue
- Finding and developing the potential for agreement
- Promoting creative approaches to inclusive solutions and dispute resolution.
